Seeks host for week-long Erasmus during 2023-2024

Topic of interest: Corpus linguistic approaches and tools

Funding: via Erasmus, no financial support needed from host

Dates: Flexible

Professional biography:

Edie Furniss seeks a host university for a week-long Erasmus visit during the academic year 2023-2024. She is particularly interested in a visit to a language center where corpus linguistic approaches and tools are used in academic English instruction, since she will be working on a project entitled "Developing corpus-based activities for academic writing instruction." The visit dates are flexible, and she will apply for funding through Erasmus, so there is no need for financial support.

Edie is a University Lecturer of academic English at the University of Helsinki Language Centre. She received her MA in Teaching a Foreign Language from the Middlebury Institute of International Studies in Monterey, California, and her PhD in Applied Linguistics from the Pennsylvania State University. Her research interests include language pedagogy, corpus linguistics, and language course and materials development.
